

GRAND JURY FINDS 12 INDICTMENTS

The grand jury, which has been in session for the past two weeks, reported to Judge Jenkins in county court Friday afternoon. Indictments were found in twelve cases. Six indictments were sealed, and in the other six cases, in which the defendants were in custody, all the defendants pleaded guilty. No indictments were found in eighteen cases, which were dismissed.

County Officials Complimented.

Before adjourning, the grand jury adopted the following memorandum: "The grand jury takes this opportunity of expressing its thanks to District Attorney Cunningham and to Assistant District Attorney Traver, whose presence with the grand jury during the hearing of cases presented to us has impressed us with the able, courteous, fair and impartial method of the district attorney's office in the conduct of all cases. The thanks of the grand jury are hereby extended to our foreman, George B. Riskey, and to our clerk, John B. Glenon, for their kindness and consideration, and to our stenographer, Mr. Styles. "The grand jury has inspected the court house and jail and commends Sheriff Shults and his assistants for their cleanliness. The thanks of the grand jury hereby are extended to Sheriff Shults, Under Sheriff Hornbeck, Jailer Davis and Night Jailer Jocelyn, and to William C. DeWitt, clerk of the court, for their untiring courtesy and efficiency. "After the indictments had been handed up by Foreman Riskey, the grand jury was discharged by Judge Jenkins with the thanks of the court for its expeditious work and the intelligence and discrimination displayed.

Cases Dismissed.

The cases in which no indictments were found and which were dismissed accordingly were as follows: Hector Gray, charged with unlawfully setting fire to forest lands in the town of Rochester.

Eli Rider and Sarah Rider, charged with negligence in the town of Rochester.

Arthur Hinson, charged with attempting to commit burglary in the first degree in the city of Kingston.

James Foley, Joseph Ryan and Charles Haggerty, charged with burglary in the third degree in the town of Marlborough.

Levi Rages, charged with assault in the second degree in the town of Ulster.

Ray Roosa, charged with forgery in the second degree in the city of Kingston.

Henry Myers and George Aulton, charged with assault in the second degree in the town of Shandaken.

James Vredenburg, charged with burglary in the third degree in the town of Shandaken.

Paul Popoff, charged with assault in the second degree in the town of Marlborough.

Viola Phillips, charged with forgery in the second degree in the city of Kingston.

Louis K. Bryan, charged with assault in the third degree in the city of Kingston.

John Ostrander, charged with grand larceny in the second degree in the town of Ulster.

John Treoni, charged with assault in the second degree in the town of Ulster.

Six Sealed Indictments.

Six sealed indictments were handed up by the grand jury. The defendants not being in custody, bench warrants were issued for their arrest.

Six Open Indictments for Prisoners.

Six open indictments for prisoners in custody were handed up and the defendants were arraigned by Assistant District Attorney Traver.

Daley Wanted Counsel.

John Daley was arraigned on a charge of burglary in the third degree, committed in the town of Marlborough on July 14, when he entered the store of Charles A. Hartshorn. Daley pleaded guilty but asked that counsel be assigned with whom he could consult. Corporation Counsel William D. Brinnier was assigned by Judge Jenkins and at the close of a brief talk said that Daley had been employed along the docks in New York city and came to Ulster county looking for work. With another man he entered Mr. Hartshorn's store, and then went to Albany, where the other man disappeared. In view of Daley's plea of guilty Mr. Brinnier asked the court to be lenient.

Assistant District Attorney Traver said that so far as The People knew, Daley's story was true. At Albany both he and his companion disposed of a quantity of razors, knives and other things they had stolen from Mr. Hartshorn's store, and were preparing to sell the remainder when Daley met three strangers and became intoxicated. He thought a man went around breaking in stores and stealing was a danger to any community.

Daley in answer to the usual questions said he was an iron-worker, 36 years old, born in Boston, lived in New York city, could read and write, was unmarried, parents are dead, habits are temperate, was never before convicted, was a Catholic.

Judge Jenkins sentenced Daley to imprisonment in Clinton state prison at Dannemora for a maximum term of four years and a minimum term of two years.

Willing to Be a Patriot Now.

Raphael Mussalino was arraigned, charged with keeping a disorderly house, maintaining a public nuisance and keeping a house of ill fame in the town of Olive.

Through his counsel, Corporation

Counsel Brinnier, Mussalino pleaded not guilty. Mr. Brinnier said that Mussalino if released was willing to go to Italy and be a patriot. If he was killed while fighting for his country, he would be no expense to the county of Ulster.

Assistant District Attorney Traver said the suggestion of Mussalino was a good one provided there was any assurance that he would leave the county.

Bail was fixed at $1,000. Later Mr. Brinnier appeared in court and said Mussalino wished to withdraw his plea of not guilty and to plead guilty.

Judge Jenkins suspended sentence. He reminded Mussalino that the court had full power to take him in custody at any time and to impose full sentence. Since he desired to leave the county, sentence would remain suspended while he kept away.

Mussalino's patriotism has little to do with the suspension of a sentence. Raphael Mussalino has been a problem to Ulster county authorities for the past year. He was sentenced last October to a term of four months in Ulster county jail, and to pay a fine of $250. He served his jail sentence, and while there for non-payment of fine he was taken sick and a commission of physicians after an examination reported that he was dangerous and further confinement would likely result in his death. Upon this report the fine was withdrawn and Mussalino was discharged.

He was again imprisoned for violating the game law, for sending a partridge through parcel post to his friend, Michael Mayo. He was indicted by the grand jury for keeping a disorderly house which is a misdemeanor, and he pleaded guilty. The only sentence the court could impose would be a sentence to the Ulster county jail, and to pay a fine. Mussalino has promised to leave the county of Ulster and upon condition that he does, sentence was suspended. If he is found in the county of Ulster he will be brought back and sentence pronounced. He is not physically fit for a soldier.

Prisoner Who Saved Bars Will Stay in Jail.

Clement Maxwell was indicted for carrying a revolver without a permit in the town of Saugerties on August 1, and also for attempting to escape from the Ulster county jail by sawing bars on September 20.

Maxwell pleaded not guilty to the charge of gun-toting and Newton H. Fessenden was assigned as his counsel. He pleaded guilty to the charge of attempting to break jail and later pleaded guilty to both indictments. Mr. Traver moved that sentence be imposed on the first mentioned charge.

Maxwell said he was a laborer, 30 years old, was born in London, England, of Irish parents, could read and write, was unmarried, parents are dead, habits are temperate, was never convicted before and he is a Methodist.

Mr. Fessenden, in asking for clemency, said this was Maxwell's first visit to Ulster county. He had been on his way to New Hampshire and was working for Dr. Emerick when he became drunk and at the time of his arrest was too drunk to know what he was doing.

Judge Jenkins sentenced Maxwell to imprisonment in the Ulster county jail for five months and fifteen days, under the indictment for carrying a revolver without a license, and directed that at the expiration of his sentence, which would occur during a term of county court, the district attorney should move for his sentence on the charge of attempting to break jail. He reminded Maxwell that any further attempt at jail breaking would result in his receiving a full sentence, and that the sentence to be imposed five months hence would depend entirely on his conduct while in jail.

Not a Good Season For Trout.

Howard Trout of Sleightsburgh was arraigned on a charge of burglary in the third degree, committed on August 30, in entering the store of Merritt Emory at Port Ewen. Through Newton H. Fessenden, his attorney, he pleaded guilty and Mr. Fessenden made a plea for clemency. Trout, he said, had a wife and four children. He had been out of work for two weeks prior to the burglary and always subsisted in honest ways until hunger forced his wife and children when he went out in the middle of the night and stole food for them.

Trout said he was a laborer, 32 years old, born in the town of Esopus, lived at Sleightsburgh, could read and write, was married, mother is living, habits are temperate, never was convicted before and is a Methodist.

Judge Jenkins sentenced him to imprisonment at Clinton state prison at Dannemora for a maximum term of two years and a minimum of one year.

Three Months For Alien Gun-Toter.

Philip Prestipino was arraigned for having a revolver without a license. Through his counsel, Newton H. Fessenden, he pleaded not guilty and bail was fixed at $1,000, either cash or bond.

Later he withdrew his plea of not guilty and pleaded guilty. He said he was a laborer, 20 years old, was born in Italy, lived at Ashokan, could read and write, unmarried, parents are dead, habits are temperate, was once arrested by mistake for someone else and was a Catholic.

Mr. Fessenden asked for a suspension of sentence because of mitigating circumstances. He had had a revolver in his room, said Mr. Fessenden, which was only a technical violation of the statute. After an altercation with Mr. Davis, his employer, the latter went for the aqueduct police to arrest him, and knowing that they might find the revolver in his room, he had taken it from his room and thrown it under the porch. That was the only time he had carried the revolver. Otherwise he had been a law-abiding citizen and already had spent more than a month in jail.

Another story was told by Assistant District Attorney Traver, who said that after his discharge by Mr. Davis, Prestipino had returned to the house. While Mr. Davis and his wife were sitting on their porch, they heard someone fumbling at a window and from the house they recognized the intruder as Prestipino. He had returned again after Mr. Davis went in search of a patrolman. Later the police found him at the back door of the Davis house. When he was sent under the porch to get the revolver he had thrown there, he returned pointing the gun at the officer.

Judge Jenkins sentenced Prestipino to three months' imprisonment in the Ulster county jail.

Oliver Sent to Reformatory.

John H. Oliver was arraigned for burglary in the third degree, in entering the store of J. H. Heaton at Clintondale on May 15. He pleaded not guilty and asked that counsel be assigned to defend him. Judge Jenkins assigned Girard L. McAllister. Later Oliver withdrew his plea of not guilty and pleaded guilty. He said he was a laborer, 23 years old, was born and lived in Clintondale, could read and write, unmarried, parents are living, habits are temperate, was never before convicted and is a Methodist.

Mr. Traver said that Mr. Heaton, who conducts a general store and post office, claimed that Oliver had repeatedly broken in his place, stealing groceries on one occasion and once robbing the post office till of a small sum. He had hesitated about prosecuting him for some time and on account of stories that Oliver was unbalanced, had had an examination made by physicians who reported that he was sane. Oliver had been in jail before on a similar charge which had not been pressed.

Judge Jenkins committed Oliver to the Elmira Reformatory until he may be discharged according to law. Court adjourned to chambers.

G. A. R. Reunion.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Washington, Oct. 2.—Checking the differences between the Washington of 1866 and the Washington of 1915 occupied the veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic who are winding up the greatest reunion they ever have held, today.

The old soldiers took their wives and children and, in many cases, their grandchildren about the streets of Washington pointing out old landmarks and explaining the great difference in the appearance today of various sites compared to the Civil War.

There was no special program of any sort today. The old soldiers rammed about the city until they found many of them went to Mount Vernon and more went to the National Cemetery at Arlington, Va., where they sought and found the graves of many comrades. The public buildings were thronged with the veterans and their "women folks" all day and guides and Washingtonians were called upon to give information concerning points of interest.

Since Wednesday, the day of the big review, the veterans have been going home. Those living near by and who have been to Washington often have nearly all departed, but many from the west are expected to stay a week. The great exodus will begin tonight and continue throughout tomorrow.

A Flying War-Horse.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Chicago, Oct. 2.—A correspondent of the Milan "Corriere della Sera" reports the following story: "An Italian Lieutenant recently rode through one of the villages on the Isonzo front. He dismounted before the temporary quarters of the commander of his regiment and tied his horse to a tree. When he entered the house he heard the humming noise of a large Austrian shell and a moment later a terrible explosion followed. The shell had struck a small building in the opposite side of the street. An immense cloud of smoke and dust rose and when it disappeared the horse of the officer was gone.

"The air pressure caused by the explosion had lifted the animal from the ground and thrown it on the flat of a nearby house, where it was found almost unhurt. It was no easy job to get the horse to the street again, as this could only be accomplished with the aid of a large crane."

School Entertainment.

The faculty and pupils of Ulster Academy are very anxious to secure a Balopticon machine for use in the school work and in order to raise funds Principal Arthur O. Bridgeman has arranged that a pleasing entertainment be given in the school hall on Friday evening, October 15. The program will consist of several choruses by the children and also a stereopticon lecture given by the children entitled "Children of the World." About 110 slides are used in giving this lecture. Tickets for the entertainment may be secured from the school children and it is hoped that every friend of the school will bear the date in mind and help swell the fund by purchasing a ticket.

Letcher the Great Reformer.

English evening service will be held in the Spring Street German Lutheran Church tomorrow. The subject of the sermon will be "How Luther Became the Great Reformer of the Christian Church." Special organ and choir music will be rendered.

PRESIDENT WILSON & GEN. MILES REVIEWING PARADE.

The picture shows President Wilson and General Nelson A. Miles, in the reviewing stand watching the 20,000 civil war veterans march by in the big parade, the chief feature of the 49th annual encampment of the G. A. R.

The reviewing stand was erected on the exact spot, where 50 years before, President Johnson, for two days reviewed the victorious troops as they marched by.

STORM DEATH LIST GROWS LARGER

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New Orleans, Oct. 2.—The latest revised list contains the names of 300 victims of the great storm. It was stated by authorities that the list likely would be increased when sections of the Gulf coast that were still isolated had been heard from.

Communication had not been restored today over considerable territory southwest of this city.

Staff correspondents of New Orleans newspapers who returned early today from the storm-swept districts reported that the tide water along the coast ranged from two and one half feet in the streets along the bay of Mobile to sixteen feet at Rigolote, where 21 lives were reported lost. They reported that 150 schooners were wrecked between Gulfport and New Orleans. Scores of vessels were left high on the shore ten to fifteen feet above the mean tide-water level.

Street cars were being operated in New Orleans on all but four lines today. Electric light service will be partly restored tonight.

Memphis, Tenn. Oct. 2.—The total death list in the Gulf storm of this week is 549, according to the reports reaching here this morning. Persons who have penetrated the storm swept district inland have reported that other scores are dead, but these reports have not been verified.

More than 400 persons are missing in the storm swept area of Louisiana and Mississippi. The property loss will total nearly $7,000,000.

BERLIN VERSION OF BIG BATTLE

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Berlin, Oct. 2.—"The largest and most fearful battle yet fought on the western front" is the description of the fighting in the Champagne region by a party of neutral war correspondents, who were invited to the front line by the German staff.

Most violent fighting centered north of Massiges, where the French greatly outnumbered the Germans. According to the correspondents, who secured their information from soldiers who actually took part in the battle, the French losses were enormous. One described them as "most terrific," another as "unheard of."

Part of the trenches were inspected during a lull in the fighting, and French prisoners were also interviewed. It is declared by the correspondents that despite the artillery preparations that extended over several days and the violence of the French assaults, the attacking forces failed to attain their object.

Gen. Joffre had evidently planned to cut off the German army in Champagne, but in this he was unsuccessful.

The correspondents who are from South America, Roumania and Holland have left Champagne for other parts of the front.

WATER RATES TO BE REVISED

By Telegram to The Freeman.

It was decided by the board of water commissioners at the regular monthly meeting on Friday afternoon at the city hall to hold a session some evening in the near future to revise the water rates to consumers in Kingston.

The contract for installing the steam heating plant at the filter house at Woodstock was awarded to the B. Loughran Company of No. 270 Fair street, whose bid of $1,469 was the lowest received by the board.

The question of revising the present water rates in the city came up for discussion and it was finally decided that the revision should take place before the next quarterly bills for water are made up and sent to consumers. The board has written to different cities with about the same population as that of Kingston and has received copies of their water rates. The members of the board will hold a meeting some evening at which time the revision will be made. From what was said it is likely that the rates will be equalized and made to agree in some measure with rates in other cities of the same size as Kingston.

Six sealed bids were received from plumbing concerns in Kingston to install a steam heating plant at the filter house. The bids were opened and were as follows:

Thomas J. Cusack, No. 57 North Front street, $1,589.

Charles H. Gregory, No. 16 Andrew street, $1,749.

Modern Plumbing & Heating co., 89 Broadway, $1,850.

L. F. Bannon Company, No. 16 Hasbrouck avenue, $1,530.

B. Loughran Company, No. 270 Fair street, $1,469.

Daniel Halloran, No. 57 East Street, $2,365.

On motion of Commissioner Roach and seconded by Commissioner Harrison the contract was awarded to the B. Loughran Company as the lowest bidder. The work of installation must be completed on or before December 1, and the successful bidder must furnish a bond of $1,000.

George Canfield, who drew up the plans and specifications of the work for the board, was engaged to inspect the work of installation.

The installation of a steam heating plant at the filter house is a long needed improvement. At the present time the filter house is heated with the aid of seven stoves.

Commissioner Roach's motion that the old fire hydrant at the corner of Washington avenue and Huron avenue be removed and a new fire hydrant installed in its place was adopted by the board. This new hydrant will be equipped with connections for the new auto fire truck.

Bills and claims against the board were read and referred to the auditing committee and the board then adjourned.

Astor Cup Race Postponed.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, Oct. 2.—The race for the Astor cup, at 350 miles in which all the leading drivers of the country were to have participated and which was to have opened the new season at Sheephead Bay, was today postponed until next Saturday, October 9, on account of rain.

AN ULTIMATUM TO BULGARIA

By Telegram to The Freeman.

London, Oct. 2.—All hope of preventing Bulgaria from going to war on the side of the Teutonic allies is rapidly being abandoned in official circles.

The entente powers are expected to send an ultimatum to Sofia within 48 hours, demanding an open declaration of Bulgaria's intentions.

A dispatch from Bucharest states that Germany is sending troops to Bulgaria to reinforce King Ferdinand's army. German and Austrian officers are being scattered throughout the Bulgarian army.

The Balkan situation has not been so grave since the war began. Preparations have all been made to put an Anglo-French army, heavily supported with artillery, in Serbia to oppose an advance of the Austro-German and Bulgarian forces toward the interior.

Following the statement in parliament by the British foreign secretary, Sir Edward Grey, that Germany is taking the same steps to force Bulgaria into the war as were used in the case of Turkey, the belief has become general that it is only a matter of time until the conflagration of war sweeps over the Balkans. Although the intentions of Roumania are not known definitely, it is confidently expected that Greece will aid Serbia.

A general offensive against Serbia by the Austro-German and Bulgarian forces would probably result in simultaneous attacks from three quarters: 1. on the Drina river; 2. on the Danube, east of Belgrade; and 3. on the Bulgar-Serb frontier near Ciglavatz. Ciglavatz is on the railway running from Sofia to Nish, the Serbian capital, and is only 40 miles from Nish.

There is already a strong force of British marines, supported by heavy naval guns, at Belgrade under Admiral Ernest C. T. Troubridge.

A telegram from Bucharest by way of Paris states that Germans are replacing Austrian troops on the first line of the Danube river front.

German battalion which tried to pass through Semendria on its way to Bulgaria, was attacked by Serbs and annihilated. Another detachment was drowned in the Danube when the transports were sunk by Serbian artillery.

ALLIES BEGIN FRESH ASSAULTS

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Paris, Oct. 2.—After allowing the Germans to exhaust themselves in counter attacks, the allies have begun a fresh series of assaults south of Ypres, between the La Bassee canal and Arras in the Champagne and Argonne regions.

The British and French are now within striking distance of the Germans defending the important railway town of Lens.

Following a lull in the storm that has been sweeping the Vosges, hard fighting has broken out in upper Alsace. The eighth day of the mighty battle in the western theatre found no slackening in the power of the Anglo-French drive. Fierce trench fighting is raging in the Artois and along the front in Champagne and the Argonne while the greatest artillery duel of the war continues. More than three millions of shells have been hurled in the past week.

French and British aviators have damaged many of the railways behind the German lines and the Teutons are finding difficulty in shipping fresh troops and munitions to the front.

Verdun has been shelled by the Germans who used a gun with a range of 23 miles to carry on bombardment.

In the Champagne, where the Germans are striving desperately to hold the Bacancourt-Challerange railway, the Teutonic artillery is using a new kind of gas shell which blinds the French soldiers with its fumes when it explodes.

It is officially admitted that the Germans were able to regain part of their lost trenches from the British northwest of Hulluch, but the allies have again launched such a violent series of assaults in that region that the German troops holding La Bassee salient are in danger of being surrounded and cut off.

Northwest of Vimy the French have made further progress in the Givenchy woods and are sweeping the Arras-Lens road with a deluge of shells. The French village of Farnus, between Thelus and Vimy, has been destroyed by German shells and flames set by the bombardment.

Between Aubert and L'Epine de Vedrange, in the Champagne, where the French are close to a railway gauge railway that the Germans are using as one of their lines of communication, the Germans are many volleys of poison gas shells.

Extensive mining operations are reported from west Flanders.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, Oct. 2.—There was an almost even balance between the supply and demand in the initial trading, with some stocks showing slight recessions, while others made some amount of advances, but after irregular changes in the first few minutes bullish sentiment again started its influence and an upward movement was in order. Most importance was attached to the trading in Westinghouse, first sales being 6,000 shares, at 133 1/4 to 134, against 132, at the close yesterday. Studebaker rose 1/4 to 142 and Distillers advanced 1/4 to 34. American Car and Foundry made an upturn to 85 1/4. General Motors with an advance of 10 points to 350, sold to 406 with fifty per cent dividend on. There was a brisk demand for U. S. Steel, which rose 1/4 to 81 1/4. The copper stocks did not share in the early improvement. Anaconda yielding 1/4 to 73 1/4 and Inspiration after opening 1/4 higher at 43 1/4, receded to 42 1/4. The railway list was steady, the leading issues being without material change at the end of the first fifteen minutes.

The market closed strong; governments unchanged; other bonds strong.

has no ill effect. They are beverages of absolute purity. Their use or abuse is optional with the consumer and they contain only about 3 per cent of alcohol. On the average all other stimulating drinks are 15 times stronger than beer in alcoholic contents.

GERMANY'S LOCOMOTIVES.

Wonderful Shops Where Railroad Motive Power is Made.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Berlin, Oct. 2.—Far from the gates of the German capital, in the northern suburbs of Tegel which is seldom visited by an American journalist, thousands of workmen are busy day and night in the locomotive works of A. Borsig, the oldest and largest establishment of its kind in Germany.

The history of this gigantic factory furnishes an interesting example of the wonderful growth and development of German industry.

The works which now cover hundreds of acres of ground were founded in 1837 by August Borsig, a young and almost penniless mechanic who dared to compete with the English and American locomotive builders.

Work was begun in a few hurriedly erected wooden shacks and in the spring of 1841 the first Borsig locomotive ran over the Berlin-Anhalt railroad. The firm has gained a reputation by hard and tireless work which is bearing its greatest fruits in the present war.

Every little wheel of the complicated industrial mechanism of the empire and the success of the German arms, but the wonderful locomotives have more than anything else helped to win the victories of the heroic troops on the different fronts.

Their excellence made possible the quick mobilization, the rapid movements of enormous masses of troops from one front to the other, and the provisioning of the gigantic armies in the field.

"The policy of our government to have as many locomotives as possible on hand at all times has paid splendidly," said Commercial Privy Councillor Ernst von Borsig, the director and grandson of the founder of the works in Tegel, to me. "Our mobilization was accomplished in surprisingly short time, because the General Staff had an enormous park of locomotives of the most modern kind at its disposition. Our enemies were badly hampered in this respect. France is short of locomotives and in Russia antiquated engines that have been built more than fifty years ago are still in use. I have seen many of them on my trips through the empire of the Czar."

"Our works are employed to their full capacity, as the state railroads and the army administration need more and more engines," the great locomotive builder continues. "We will also be very busy for a long time after the war, because the engines are used up very fast now than in time of peace. They cannot be repaired carefully enough, and many of them will be used up by much that they have to be replaced by new ones when the end of the war comes. Our works may have to be enlarged considerably."

"When the war broke out many of our 5,000 workmen were called to the colors and we had to employ women, which we had never done before. There are about 900 of them in our works now, and all of them do the work formerly done by men in a very satisfactory manner."

"We had expected that the war would throw many men in the different industries out of work and it was our intention to give employment to as many of them as possible, but we received no applications."

"Contrary to our expectations, however, because of the war, the manufacturers had to entice workmen away from each other by offering them higher wages. The families of those of our workmen who went to the front are supported by us and we are taking care of all widows and orphans."

"We also manufacture war material," the locomotive king as he is called, said in conclusion. "This we did already before the war, but not on a very large scale. When the war broke out and we received enormous orders we had to build a great amount of new machinery."

Besides the war material we furnish hundreds of hydraulic presses that are needed by the ammunition manufacturers. The machinery for

BOILERSAbout A Chat We Had
With A Man You Know

Not so long ago one of your acquaintances came in and wanted to know why we persisted in putting such a loud pedal on the Kingstonian.

What we said made him a buyer. What he now says makes him a Kingstonian booster.

He admitted that his boiler had only two cleanout doors for all the flue, and that they were mightily unhandily located somewhere around in the back. He was quite a surprised person when we showed him that the Kingstonian has a separate cleanout door for every flue, and that those doors are right in the front where it is so easy to clean them that you really do keep them clean.

Then we pointed out to him the good, big, generous-sized fire-box door. "Say, that's a real common sense door," he exclaimed. "Why, a chap could use a man's size shovel and scattering the coal all over the without banging it against the sides floor."

But what's the use of telling here; about the Kingstonian advantages we talked about? Drop in sometime, and you and we can talk them over unhurriedly. Or let us send you a Kingstonian-in-plain-English boiler book.

COTTEKILL BOY HAS DISAPPEARED

Distracted over the disappearance of her boy who left his home in Cottekill, Ulster county, nearly a month ago because he dreaded attending school, Mrs. Charles Bishop, wife of a prominent resident of the village, has solicited the aid of Chief McCabe in helping her to find her boy.

She seemed certain Friday when consulting with the police that her son was somewhere in Poughkeepsie as he had often talked of the city and had spoken of "rather working" in the knife works or the automobile factory than going to school.

The boy was told that he must go to school and on September 6th, a few days before the school at Cottekill opened, he disappeared. His parents have heard nothing from him since.

Chief McCabe was in communication with most of the factories of the city Friday but failed to locate the Bishop boy.

Young Bishop's full name is John Russell Bishop. He is 15 years old, weighs 175 pounds and when he left home was dressed in a blue serge suit and wore tan shoes. He wears a plain gold ring and carries a gold filled Waltham watch with the picture of a hunting dog engraved on the case.

When he left home he had very little money. The family scout the idea that he has committed suicide and are positive that he is working in Poughkeepsie or some city in the vicinity under an assumed name.—Poughkeepsie Eagle.

LUCILLE IS WRATHY.

Declares Now That Dr. Hill Did Promise Marriage.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Detroit, Oct. 2.—Miss Lucille Covington, 35 years old, pretty and dainty, arrived in Detroit this morning from Alpena, Mich., where she has been organizing for the Fraternal Order of Yeomen and had many interesting things to say in connection with the $100,000 breach of promise suit filed in New York against Dr. John Wesley Hill of that city. She declares that when the suit comes to trial she will give much testimony calculated to convince a jury that she has been badly treated by Dr. Hill and that she will prove her claims that he has broken faith with her.

She denounced him roundly in an interview with a local newspaper man and says she will fight the case to the end.

Packers Appeal to Government.

Faulkner, today appealed to the state department to make representations to the British government to take their cases, whereby $12,500,000 worth of meat cargoes were confiscated, out of the jurisdiction of the British prize court. Acting Secretary of State Polk and Assistant Counselor Anderson listened to the other pleas but gave them no answer. Mr. Polk said that he would take their requests under consideration.

RED SOX ARE WINNERS OF THE AMERICAN LEAGUE 1915 PENNANT

PHILADELPHIA GETS OPENING GAME

(By Frank G. Menkes.)

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, Oct. 2.—The first game of the world's series between the Philadelphia Nationals and the Boston Americans will be played at Philadelphia, Friday, Oct. 8. The second game also will be played in the Quaker City the following day, Saturday, Oct. 9. The third and fourth games will be played in Boston on Monday, Oct. 12. The fifth game will be played at Philadelphia Oct. 13, the sixth at Boston Oct. 14 and the seventh if necessary, will be decided by the tossing of a coin.

President Lannin of Boston lost the toss for the place of the opening game. A quarter was flipped by Nudge Rawlings, a Philadelphia newspaper man. Lannin cried "Tails." The coin came down heads.

President Turner of the National league then proposed to the commission that the first game be played on October 8. Dan Johnson, president of the American league, seconded the motion.

The commission then appointed as umpires Charles Hilder and William J. Klein of the Nationals and William Evans and Frank O'Loughlin of the American league.

The official program named was "The World's Series." The other source of the program, one of them a Boston man and the other from Philadelphia.

These will be shown by the baseball writers' association of the respective cities.

$30,000 ADDITION TO CITY HOSPITAL

On This Sum More Than $20,000 Has Been Raised and Work Will Begin This Month on Four-Story Building.

The first regular meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Kingston City Hospital was held on Thursday afternoon, the president, Mrs. George Chatter, in the chair.

The annual report of the treasurer showed all bills paid to date and a credit balance on hand for the work of the coming year. The secretary's report for the year contained the list of names and other supplies furnished to the hospital for the past year by the auxiliary. It may be of interest to the public to know that there were delivered to the superintendent of the hospital in one year the following supplies: 17 outing flannel dressing gowns, 12 dressing gowns, 123 infant slips, 145 diapers, 6 night shirts, 120 pillow cases, 78 bed spreads, 27 shirtings, 2 skirts, 2 capes, 8 surgeons' gowns, 15 nurses' gowns for operating room. This makes a total of 558 articles for the year.

The president briefly outlined the plans for the remodeling of the present hospital building with the new addition, work on which will begin this month. The four story fire-proof addition will cost in the neighborhood of $30,000. Of this amount, $22,100 has already been raised without any appeal to the public. The balance will be raised by the auxiliary this season to swell the building fund. The $2,000 raised by the flag ball in 1913 went into this fund and has not been used in any way for hospital supplies. A ball this season with spectacular attraction will no doubt net a sum equivalent to this and the women of the auxiliary have pledged themselves to make it a success. The date will be announced later.

Several groups of officers followed with the following results:

First vice president, Mrs. Thomas J. Hickey.
Second vice president, Mrs. C. D. B. Hasbrouck.
Secretary, Mrs. Charles Tappen.
Treasurer, Mrs. C. E. Hasbrouck.
Purchasing committee, appointed by president, Mrs. James E. Low, Mrs. Charles R. Hall, Mrs. Richard Tappen.

Three new members were proposed and elected to membership. The auxiliary now has over 70 members.

Satisfied With Little.
The Australian bushmen wish only a shelter from the rain, and if they can find a cave or overhanging rock that will shelter them they will build no house. If there is no such natural shelter they select a place where small trees or bushes grow together and weave the branches together and cover them with grass. This forms a roof to keep off the rain.

CHAMPIONSHIP WON BY BOSTON RED SOX

Hub Team Is Winner of the American League Pennant.

Manager Bill Carrigan Lands His Machine on Top After Pretty Fight—Credit Also Given to Star Outfielders.

(By CHARLES H. CROWELL.)
After as pretty a struggle as the most enthusiastic baseball fan could possibly wish for, the Boston Red Sox finally won the American league championship for 1915. Up to almost the last game it was anybody's race, but few games separating the leader and tailender.

To Bill Carrigan belongs the credit. His earnest, aggressive and at times quarrelsome methods were of vast importance in the long grind. The Red Sox got away to a poor start owing to sickness and injury, and it was not until the season was well advanced that the players got together, assumed the lead and once out in front they clung on tenaciously.

When Jake Stahl was deposed as manager of the Red Sox the place was given to Carrigan, and since that day Bill has been making good in every sense of the word. He is an exacting leader. He finds out what a player can do and then insists on that man doing his full duty. A slugger has no business on that team. Carrigan has compelled his stars to work as hard as the recruits. He is a strict disciplinarian and will brook no interference with his methods.

Kept Players on Toes.

Starting the season with as classy a staff of pitchers as a manager could desire, an outfield that could not be beaten, and a strong infield, Carrigan kept his men on their toes all the time. His college training gave him a finesse and to some extent a diplomacy unexpected in one of such aggressive methods. To begin with, Joe Wood went wrong during last winter, and was slow in rounding to. Wagner, his star keystone sacker, was also incapacitated. Dutch Leonard, his first string pitcher, got in bad with President Lannin, but Carrigan overcame all obstacles and finally landed his team on top.

The Red Sox outfield, Speaker, Lewis and Hooper, has worked together for six years and they know how every player who has been around the circuit once hits, and where he hits. This trio is the best defensively in the league. Speakers war club and marvelous speed on the bases; Hooper's well-known trick of waiting out an opposing pitcher and Lewis' steady hitting, brings them to a point of excellence second to none. The Detroit outfield, Cobb, Crawford and Veach, may equal them in many respects, but they do not surpass them. Speaker, with his tremendous speed, can play a shorter field than any other center.

Joe and Lewis possess arms of steel and it behooves an opposing player to watch his steps whenever he makes what looks like a sure single, or he may be thrown out at first. Many fielders may have as many assists at the end of the season as this trio, but that is because most American league basemen know when and where to stop. The individual and team play of these three have been one of the most important factors in keeping the Red Sox in the lead and eventually capturing the flag.

Pitchers Worked Well.
Outside of the illness of Wood and the sickness of Leonard, Manager Carrigan has not had to worry a great deal about his pitchers. "Dabe" Ruth, George Foster and Ernest Shore, Vean Gregg and Mays, have all done mighty well, not only in the box, but also at bat. Ruth has a batting average well above the 300 mark. Joe Wood, the star of the string, is one of the rare individuals who does well everywhere he attempts. He is a fine fellow personally and is well liked by his companions on the club.

The Red Sox, besides their strong outfield and classy staff of pitchers, has an almost ideal infield. Hoblitzel, Barry and Gardner, are hard to beat and many blossoming base hits have been nipped in the bud by this quartette. And then, in case of accident Gainer, Janvin and Wagner are always on hand to fill any gap.

Few interviewers have ever been able to talk to Carrigan as to his success. He is not bashful, but his gruff, untidy manner makes him doubly hard to thaw out. Because of this, few characteristics of his have come to the surface. Of the ball field he is unusually silent and thoughtful.

Carrigan has had an extra lead to carry, as he was promoted to the leadership of the Red Sox over his teammates, and in some cases he found others were not so certain that Carrigan was the man for the job. He has had to contend with critics with less er lights aspiring to his official head, and with disgruntled players. But his roughshod methods have overridden all obstacles, until now he is recognized by players and "fans" alike as the first man of the Red Sox.

Took Up Baseball.

He was born in Lewiston, Me., thirty-three years ago, of a family of modest means, and was selected for a clerical position. It was impressed upon him to succeed in this life, but he did not. He was a natural athlete, and he turned to baseball. He was a natural athlete, and he turned to baseball.

And this school changed the vocation of "Bill" after life, for it was there he first became imbued with a love for baseball.

Carrigan early exhibited a skill in the popular sport and was selected as catcher of the high school team in his first year. He played for three years on the Lewiston high school nine and then acquired in the desire of his parents to attend Holy Cross college. While at Holy Cross Carrigan made his impression on the big league scouts and especially those of the Red Sox, who in 1906 prevailed upon Carrigan to give up all other thoughts of after life for the padded mitt, bat and ball.

He played his first professional ball in the autumn of 1906 with the Red Sox, but, being inexperienced, was sent to Toronto the following year. He was recalled by the Red Sox in 1908 and was substitute catcher for that year. In 1909 Lou Criger, the veteran, was released and Carrigan became the regular catcher for the Red Sox, playing that position in the world's series against the Giants in 1912.

He now enjoys the happy distinction of being the only playing manager in the American league.

AMERICAN JOCKEY WINS

The American jockey Archibald headed the list of winning riders in the summer meeting at Hoppegarten, Berlin, recently concluded, with seventeen firsts in forty-eight races. The victories of the American rider were very popular and in racing at least there was no trace of anti-American feeling. Second place was taken by Jockey Rastenberg, riding for the Weinberg stables, for which Fred Taral, the old American jockey, is trainer. Rastenberg, who is serving with the German field artillery and was given a furlough for the meeting, rode fifteen winners in fifty-six races. Other German jockeys follow to the rear, the next rider, Phurschke, riding only seven winners.

Gratitude for Wagner.

The report that Hans Wagner will be made manager of the Pirates must be wrong. Barney Dreyfuss, owner of the club, is too grateful to Hans for the great infielder's years of service to hand him anything like that.

New Motorcycle Record.

Arthur Chaplin today holds a new motorcycle record for a mile. He recently covered the distance in 37.35 seconds, one-fifth of a second better than the mark he made last year.

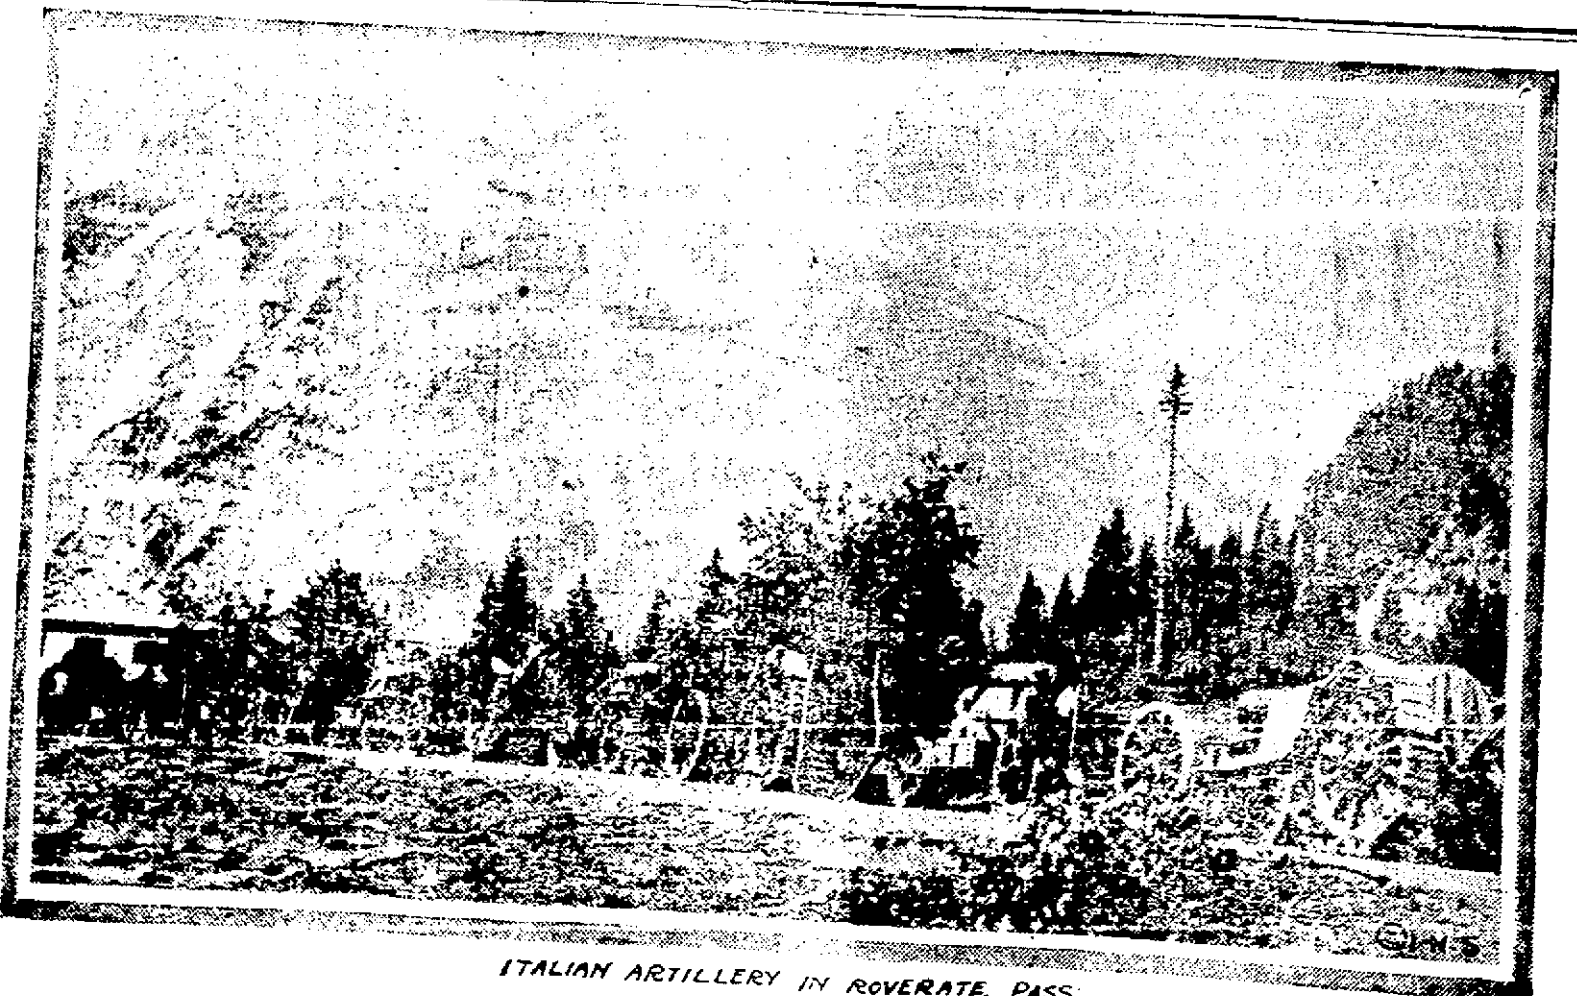

Goethe and Burns.

Goethe and Burns were both "in the front rank" of great men. Goethe lived to a venerable age, while Burns died in the thirties, but both were first-class artists, and proved it. The name of "Scotland's Parson" will live as long as that of the German Olympian.

ITALIAN OFFICER IN NEW BOMB-PROOF QUARTERS.

LATEST STYLE BOMB PROOF FOR ITALIAN OFFICERS.
The Italians are not taking any more chances than necessary with their officers. Special bomb proofs, made of overlapping steel plates riveted together have been constructed for the use of the officers. The picture shows one such steel shelter, with an officer sitting in it.

ITALIAN ARTILLERY IN ROVERATE PASS.

The picture shows Italian heavy artillery, of the caterpillar type used by all European nations, moving through Roverate Pass during a concentration movement preparatory to bombarding an Austrian position. The peaks of some of the Alpine mountains are seen in the background.

Daily Thought.

There is eloquence in the tongueless wind, and a melody in the flowing brooks, and the rustling of the reeds beside them, which, by their inconceivable relation to something within the soul, awaken the spirits to a dance of breathless rapture.—Shelley.

Best Man's Advice.

The Best-man just before the ceremony must take a brace, but I don't want to overdo it. How much ought I to take, old fellow? Best Man—Well, I should keep on taking 'em till I didn't care whether I was married or not.—Life.

ADVERTISEMENT WANTED.

HALF the tremendous sums annually invested in advertising are wasted because efforts are made along wrong lines. Most business men put off until the last moment the preparation of their ads, and then have advertisements appearing in a haphazard and unbusinesslike manner. Why not have advertisements appearing in a dignified and substantial way to which the public will give good notice and good results that make the possibility of failure? If you are interested, write me for terms. George M. Zeller, care of Kingston Freeman.

SUNDAY'S GAME FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

On Sunday afternoon, weather permitting, the Red Monograms will cross bats with the fast De Poyster team of Tiroll for the championship of Ulster and Dutchess counties. This will be the first of a series of three games to be played between these teams and all three will be played at McVey's field. The batteries for tomorrow's game, will be Clark and Robins for the Monograms and Dickhout and Simmons for the Tiroll team. One of the umpires of the game will be "Crimp" Parsons, a former Kingston boy, who is at present well-known to the fans in New York and Philadelphia where he has been winning a number of bouts during the past few years. After the game Sunday "Crimp" will be glad to meet his many Kingston friends. Dickhout, the pitcher for the Tiroll team, is one of the best twirlers along the Hudson and no doubt a fast exhibition of ball will be shown by both teams. The game will be called at 3:30.

The Netherlands.

The kingdom of the Netherlands dates back to 1815, when the congress of Vienna granted its national independence under the rule of the House of Orange. At that time the provinces known as the Austrian Netherlands were united to Holland, but there was little sympathy of nationality, religion or racial inheritance between the two sections of the newly formed kingdom.

MENKE'S DAILY SPORTING LETTER

(By Frank G. Menke).

New York, Oct. 2.—The classic pitching staff that ever battled under one standard versus a pitching staff composed of one real star and several ordinary twirlers—that's the way the Red Sox and Phillies size up in pitching departments.

But the overwhelming advantage of the Red Sox in its defensive department, as a whole, is minimized by the fact that in a world series the whole staff doesn't get a chance to perform—the mound duelling is delegated to two or three pitchers at the most. Sometimes just one pitcher does the bulk of the work.

And because this is the case, the pitching department of the Phillies must be considered practically equal to that of the Red Sox in the short world series clash.

Grover Cleveland Alexander stands out today as the greatest defensive pitcher in the game. The Sox have a wonder hurler in Joe Wood, yet even Wood must yield first place to the pitching star of the Phillies.

Alex. Wants to Pitch Four Straight. Upon the mighty right arm of Alexander will rest the hopes of the Phillies supporters. And Alexander, if right, certainly will justify the confidence that is placed in him, because the game never has known a pitcher who, in a crisis, could rise to such sublime heights.

Alexander has asked to work in the first four games of the world series—but Manager Pat Moran has turned down this amazing request. Moran believes that Alex could stand up under the terrific strain of pitching four games in a row, and he feels that if Alex did work in those four games it probably would clinch the pennant for the Phillies. But he knows that the strain ultimately would tell—that it would shorten Alexander's career as a pitcher.

Alexander, undoubtedly, will pitch the opener and will be sent to the mound again for the third game. The result of the duelling up to that time will decide Moran as to when to work Alex again.

Demaree May Spring Surprise. Demaree probably will get a chance at the Phillies—and when "Steamer Al" is going good he's one of the best little pitchers in the game.

Demaree is somewhat erratic in pitching. One day he will pitch a shut-out game. The next day he will yield a dozen hits. The Sox may bat him all over the lot when he starts—and Demaree may shut them out. At any rate, it's a good gamble for Moran to shove Demaree at the Phillies for the second game, using Mayor or Rixey, the huge southpaw, for the fourth game.

Manager Billy Corigan just now is in a quandary as to which man to work in the opening combat. Bill's choice isn't made for him as is Moran's. He's got six twirlers, every one on edge, and every one of almost equal skill.

Wood in Opener if Arm is Right. If Joe Wood's arm is back in real condition Carrigan probably will probably send "Smoky" against Alexander. If it isn't, Shore, a youngster, may get the honor.

When Vean Gregg is in condition there isn't a better left hander in the country. But Gregg's arm has been ailing all year, and Carrigan may not work him. George Foster and Dutch Leonard seem sure of getting the firing line, especially if the Sox are in for one, and "Babe" Ruth, the youngster, will be held in reserve for relief work—and for pinch hitting purposes.

Ruth Real Slugger. Ruth is one of the best hitters on the club and easily the greatest slugger. He has smashed out nine doubles, one triple and four home runs during his infrequent appearances at the bat, and he will appear in handy in pinches.

Here are two tables, one showing the to-date pitching records of the Red Sox sextet that is likely to get into the series, and another table showing the work of the Phillies quartet.

Telling Fresh Eggs.

To ascertain the freshness of an egg without breaking, hold it before a strong light and look directly through the shell. If the yolk appears round, and the white surrounding it clear, the chances are that the egg is fresh. Or drop it into water; if the egg sinks quickly and remains at the bottom it is in all probability fresh, but if it stands on end and it is doubtful, and quite bad if it floats. The shell of a fresh egg looks dull, while that of a stale one is glossy.

Change of Time.

Steamers Gardner and Bunker will make but one trip a day between Kingston and Poughkeepsie for the balance of the season, leaving Rondout at 8 a. m. and Poughkeepsie at 2 p. m.—Advertisement.
